Dear Harold,

Gosh, I sure do appreciate your taking some of your super-busy minutes to answer my recent letter; and you gave me just the kind of info I wanted!

The English Prof handed back the 3-page things we'd passed in the week before - mine was the one I wrote you about, "You, Too, Can Be A Baseball Buff." He generously gave me an "A" on it . . and asked me to read it to the class (which is his highest accolade).

So on the strength of that, plus your words of encouragement and information, I may send it along to one or two magazines one of these days. Will have to re-type and make a change or two to delete any local references that ~~was~~ beamed at my main target, the Prof, and will have a go at it - your guy Martin Singer of SAGA will be my #1 try, and probably PLAYBOY and READERS DIGEST. The Prof mentioned "Yankee" Mag with which I am not familiar, but which he seemed to think paid good $$$$$ - and that's for me!

You can be sure, Harold, I will let you know if anything of mine is EVER accepted by ANY publication - funny I have never given it a whirl before, as writing is one of my favorite things. I guess it took the reaction of the instructor to make me realize maybe I wasn't the only one who would enjoy my "stuff."

Your suggestions for the term paper were greatly appreciated . . and EXACTLY what I wanted. Right at the moment, it looks as if I might do something on the angle about Oswald not being at the scene of either crime. I know your 3 books that I have will be my biggest help . . . and the Garrison Interview in the October PLAYBOY is LOADED with everything anyone could possibly want on any angle. You and he, in my opinion, would be a gigantic team - straight-forward, logical and above all FEARLESS! Since the term paper has to be short, I won't be able to do much with it . . . but it seems wise to choose a subject in which I am interested and have already done quite a bit of reading.

Your new house sounds just marvelous; the two dens must be quite a boon . . . and the chance to view nature herself right out your windows would be more than worth the effort. The brand new roof is rather a blow, am sure; we went thru that jazz a few years ago right after one of our coastal storms, but the insurance coverage made the difference!

I've made a big "reminder note" at home to be sure that we catch Jack McKinney tomorrow night - and we're praying for the correct combination of atmospheric conditions that will bring WCAU in loud and clear.

Glad to hear "OINO" is ready for mailing and will be looking for it soon. "Tiger To Ride" is an intriguing title, I must say, -- does that mean something like "he who rides the tiger often ends up inside"?

Well, what I intended as a brief note has already run by that point, as usual. My major objective was to let you know that I appreciated the comments you sent and mostly that you took time from your overburdened schedule to let me hear from you. Best of luck in your projects, Harold, and say "hi" to Lillian. Tell her if she ever takes any snapshots of the new house to send one along, complete with birds and rabbits.

Regards to all.
